FIVE WAYS TO SUPPORT CHILDREN WITH AUTISM

5ways.lgfl.net

Look, Think, Do

Created with and for many primary learners with autism who struggle with social communication skills. This resource includes editable photo and symbol-based stories and skills sequences to support areas within Play, Say, Change and Helping Yourself. Ltd.lgfl.net

THINKING
SKILLS
FOR LIFE

Thinking Skills for Life and Employability can provide social and other support for older learners as they prepare for adulthood, with topics including job finding, relationships and handling money. Thinkingskills.lgfl.net

FAIRYTALES

SEN Assist Fairytales is a set of interactive, multisensory stories with online and offline activities which have been created specifically for learners with autism. They include motivators, are differentiated and incorporate specialist strategies. Fairytales.lgfl.net

 Widgit

Over 15,000 symbols can be downloaded for you to use in your own resources, with more than 1,000 ready-made activity sheets also available covering many areas of the curriculum, along with prompts and resources for supporting communication. Widgit.lgfl.net

Busy Things

Busy Things includes a range of activities and games to support all curriculum subjects for all key stages in primary schools. The engaging design of the materials motivates learners and encourages them to engage, including older learners working at lower levels.
